

The Catholic Nature of our Schools

A Report from the Director of Education,
John B. Kostoff

March 2010

Report from the Director of Education

The Catholic Nature of our Schools

Commentary

From time-to-time, the Director is required to present to the board on various topics. While many topics come before the trustees for either deliberation or information, the topic of Catholicity in our schools is an essential part of the foundation of this school board and worthy of regular commentary. This report should be viewed as a “dashboard” observation, meaning it is a gauge to reflect what is taking place in Dufferin-Peel. It provides a view of the state and health of Catholicity in our board. The report also contains examples of concrete actions that our schools take to demonstrate our Catholic nature. Using this document as a foundation, staff will soon present a “best practices” report that will illustrate the many good things that occur in our schools, so that other schools can share and benefit as well.

Inservice/Professional Development

“Education is not given for the purpose of gaining power but as an aid towards a fuller understanding of, and a communion with people, events and things. Knowledge is not to be considered as a means of material prosperity and success, but as a call to serve and to be responsible for others.”

*The Sacred Congregation for Catholic Education
